17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

College of Pharmacy

Assistant Professor Dr. Omar Qutaiba Al-Layla, Dean of the College of Pharmacy at Alnoor University, participated in the activities of the Sixth International Scientific Conference of Al-Kafeel University. The conference was held with the participation of the Universities of Toledo and Michigan from the United States, Al-Ameed University, and Al-Kafeel Specialized Hospital. Its aim was to support scientific and research advancement, provide a stimulating environment for academic and research innovation, and develop education and research in the field of pharmaceutical sciences. Additionally, the conference sought to contribute to enhancing the pharmaceutical sector and improving health outcomes both locally and internationally.
