

Sustainable Development Goals

Gender Equality

5 GENDER EQUALITY

Eliminating all forms of discrimination against women and girls is not only a fundamental human right but also a crucial factor in accelerating sustainable development. It has been repeatedly proven that empowering women and girls has a multiplier effect, helping to drive economic growth and development across all areas.

Gender Equality

Alnoor University, under the patronage of Professor Dr. Yaseen Taha Al-Hajjar, President of Alnoor University, held a central ceremony through the Human Rights Division to honor a distinguished group of the university's female academics and staff members at the university presidency. The event was organized in conjunction with International Women's Day, during which they were awarded Alnoor University Shields along with certificates of appreciation and gratitude. At the conclusion of the celebration, Dr. Bashar Mahmoud, Chairman of the Board of Directors, delivered an important welcoming and guiding speech. The event was attended by Dr. Nabil Ahmed Jargis, Vice President of the University for Administrative Affairs, Dr. Ismail Abdulwahab, Vice President for Scientific Affairs, as well as a number of college deans and the scientific advisor.

