

Sustainable Development Goals

Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions

16 PEACE, JUSTICE AND STRONG INSTITUTIONS

Encouraging the establishment of peaceful communities where no one is marginalized is essential for achieving sustainable development. This involves ensuring that everyone has access to justice, building effective and accountable institutions that are inclusive at all levels, and significantly reducing illicit flows of money and weapons. Additionally, it includes enhancing the recovery and return of stolen assets and combating all forms of organized crime..

In line with the directives of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research, and as part of implementing the governmental program for the development of the higher education sector, Alnoor University participated—through the Division of Chemical, Biological, and Radiological Safety and Security—in the training course titled “Strategy for the Development of Higher Education and Combating Drug Abuse.” The university was represented by Prof. Dr. Shaker Mahmoud Saeed, Assistant Dean of the College of Pharmacy for Scientific Affairs, and Mr. Omar Taha Ismail. The course, held at the University of Mosul and also delivered via an online platform, witnessed distinguished participation from experts across various universities. The sessions focused on the adoption of a government program aimed at managing and controlling the handling of chemical substances and ensuring their safe use.

