

Sustainable Development Goals

Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions

16 PEACE, JUSTICE AND STRONG INSTITUTIONS

Encouraging the establishment of peaceful communities where no one is marginalized is essential for achieving sustainable development. This involves ensuring that everyone has access to justice, building effective and accountable institutions that are inclusive at all levels, and significantly reducing illicit flows of money and weapons. Additionally, it includes enhancing the recovery and return of stolen assets and combating all forms of organized crime..

Alnoor University, in collaboration with the University of Mosul, concluded the activities of the "We Are Peace" project, during which students from both universities presented a range of initiatives aimed at raising awareness and promoting social peace. The events were inaugurated with a speech by Dr. Mohammed Abdul Jabbar Yahya, Director of the Student Activities Department at Alnoor University, in which he emphasized the university's commitment to supporting such impactful projects that serve the community and promote a culture of peace—under the direct support of Dr. Bashar Mahmoud, Chairman of the University's Board of Trustees. At the closing ceremony, certificates and honorary gifts were distributed to the participating professors and students. One of the highlights was the first-place award earned by the project titled "Cyber Blackmail" submitted by students of Alnoor University. These initiatives underscore the role of universities in fostering social awareness and empowering student potential in building a more stable future.

