

Sustainable Development Goals

Partnerships For The Goals

17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

Partnerships For The Goals

At the kind invitation of Professor Dr. Dawood Suleiman Al-Atrushi, President of the University of Duhok, a joint delegation from Alnoor University and the Lamasu Cultural Organization met with specialists at the presidency of the University of Duhok. The meeting focused on exploring prospects for future cooperation in the fields of archaeological research and cultural heritage preservation. Discussions emphasized the implementation of joint academic activities in archaeology and cultural studies, as well as strengthening cross-regional collaboration in documenting and safeguarding Iraq's tangible and intangible heritage. The participants expressed a shared interest in launching workshops, exhibitions, and student exchange programs that would contribute to linking the rich archaeological legacy of Mosul and Duhok. The meeting was attended by Dr. Dilshad Abdul-Jabbar Haleem, Vice President of the University of Duhok for Administrative and Financial Affairs; Dr. Zhiar Sadiq Ramadan, Head of the Department of Archaeology at the College of Humanities; Dr. Nabeel Noori Deen, Director of the Alnoor Center for Cultural Heritage Preservation at Alnoor University; Dr. Omar Jassam, President of the Lamasu Organization; Dr. Hend Fakhri, Advisor to the Organization; along with several archaeologists who are members of the organization.

