17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

Partnerships For The Goals

As part of its efforts to build cultural bridges with international institutions, Baytna Foundation, the cultural arm of Alnoor University, concluded its visit to the city of Istanbul. The visit came at the kind invitation of the Presidency for Turks Abroad and Related Communities (YTB), affiliated with the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism, in coordination with the Turkish Consulate in Mosul, and through Alnoor University, which serves as the host institution for the foundation. The visit was part of a diverse cultural program aimed at enhancing the expertise of the foundation's team and the Mosuli Heritage Museum, empowering the university's youth, and exposing them to advanced experiences in the fields of culture and heritage. The program included field visits to several prominent cultural landmarks, such as historic Ottoman palaces, the Glass Museum, the Süleymaniye Library of Ottoman Archives, as well as a number of historic mosques and ancient churches. These visits offered participants a unique opportunity to explore the richness and diversity of Turkey's cultural heritage. Through this active cultural engagement, Alnoor University reaffirms its ongoing commitment to broadening the horizons of knowledge and academic openness, and to providing its students and staff with high-quality opportunities for direct exposure to advanced global experiences—contributing to the enrichment of Iraq's cultural and educational landscape.
