17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

Alnoor University today welcomed Dr. Eng. Zaid Mohammed Nouri, Vice President of the Iraqi Engineers Syndicate / General Center in Baghdad, accompanied by Consulting Engineer Waleed Saadi Al-Na'imi, President of the Nineveh Branch Council of the Iraqi Engineers Syndicate. During the visit, the delegation toured the university's facilities, with particular focus on the Colleges of Engineering, where they were introduced to the engineering workshops and laboratories and their advanced capabilities. Dr. Zaid commended the distinguished role played by Alnoor University in graduating highly qualified engineering cadres who meet the demands of the labor market, praising the ongoing efforts made to develop the university's engineering infrastructure. The delegation also expressed their appreciation for the scientific and practical progress observed in the laboratories and workshops. At the conclusion of the visit, Alnoor University presented commemorative shields to the visiting delegation in recognition of their efforts and continuous support for the engineering sector in Iraq.
