17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

A delegation from Alnoor University, headed by Professor Dr. Ismail Abdulwahab, Assistant President of the University for Scientific Affairs, and including Dr. Mohammed Zuhair Zidan, Director of International Relations, and Dr. Nabeel Nouruddin, Director of the Alnoor Center for the Preservation of Cultural Heritage, visited Koç University in Istanbul.

During the visit, the delegation met with university officials, where agreements were reached on the following:

- Allocating three postgraduate seats for top-ranking students from Alnoor University.
- Providing summer training opportunities for a group of Alnoor University students.
- Strengthening research collaboration between scientific centers at both universities.
- Hosting Koç University students at Alnoor University in archaeology and heritage tourism programs.
- Organizing joint cooperation between the College of Archaeology at Koç University and the Alnoor Center for the Preservation of Cultural Heritage.

This meeting comes as part of Alnoor University's commitment to building strong international academic partnerships that open broader horizons for its students and faculty in research, training, and development.
