17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

College of Pharmacy

Alnoor University is gaining increasing attention from research institutions and Iraqi universities. The university received a delegation from the College of Pharmacy at the University of Mosul, headed by the College Dean, Dr. Yasser Fakhri, accompanied by the assistant deans, heads of scientific departments, and a number of students. The visit included a field tour of Alnoor University's laboratories, classrooms, and academic departments, where the delegation was briefed on the academic and technical capabilities the university provides to its students, as well as the modern learning environment adopted in its academic programs. The visit aimed to strengthen academic cooperation between the two universities and open avenues for scientific exchange and joint coordination in research and training fields.
