17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

The world today is more interconnected than ever before. Improving access to technology and knowledge is a crucial way to exchange ideas and foster innovation. Additionally, coordinating policies to help developing countries manage their debts, as well as encouraging investment in the least developed countries, is vital for achieving growth and sustainable development.

The Council of Alnoor University received a high-level academic delegation from Al Khaleej College in the Sultanate of Oman, in the presence of Professor Dr. Alya Abbas Al-Attar, President of the Northern Technical University, Professor Dr. Yassin Taha Al-Hajjar, President of Alnoor University, and Dr. Bashar Mahmoud Ali, Chairman of the University Board of Trustees. During the meeting, discussions were held on the current state of higher education in Iraqi and Omani universities, as well as exploring prospects for joint cooperation in the fields of study, scientific research, and innovation, in a manner that enhances academic partnerships and the exchange of scholarly expertise between the two institutions. Both sides emphasized the importance of expanding future areas of cooperation to serve students and researchers, contribute to advancing academic and research standards, and strengthen academic openness among Arab universities.
