

Sustainable Development Goals

Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions

16 PEACE, JUSTICE AND STRONG INSTITUTIONS

Encouraging the establishment of peaceful communities where no one is marginalized is essential for achieving sustainable development. This involves ensuring that everyone has access to justice, building effective and accountable institutions that are inclusive at all levels, and significantly reducing illicit flows of money and weapons. Additionally, it includes enhancing the recovery and return of stolen assets and combating all forms of organized crime..

College of Law and Political Science

Under the supervision of Dr. Ahmed Mustafa, Dean of the College of Law and Political Sciences at Alnoor University, the Human Rights Division organized a legal workshop titled "Domestic Violence: Reality and Legislative Remedies," overseen by Assistant Lecturer Qaidar Ahmed Mahmoud. The workshop featured presentations by Assistant Professor Dr. Rina Al-Soufi on digital violence against women, Assistant Lecturer Nassar Saad Salem on international conventions and their role in combating domestic violence, and Lecturer Dr. Rassem Mohammed Sabri on criminal procedures and their role in investigations of domestic violence cases.

