

Sustainable Development Goals

Sustainable Cities and Communities

11 SUSTAINABLE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES

Cities are hubs for ideas, trade, culture, science, production, social development, and other human activities. They play a crucial role in enabling people to achieve social and economic advancement. It is essential to mobilize support to ensure that policymakers are convinced of the need to include access to information in national and regional development plans.

Alnoor University welcomed Professor Dr. Saadallah Tawfiq, President of the Fe'l Al-Khairat Association, on a special visit at the invitation of the university, in recognition of his distinguished academic and community service career and to explore new avenues of cooperation between the academic institution and charitable and community work. Professor Dr. Saadallah Tawfiq is regarded as one of the prominent academic figures in Nineveh Governorate and Iraq. He previously served as President of the University of Mosul and contributed throughout his career to the advancement of higher education and academic work before continuing his community service through his leadership of the Fe'l Al-Khairat Association and its charitable and humanitarian initiatives and activities across Nineveh Governorate and Iraq. During the visit, the guest toured Alnoor University's departments and facilities and was briefed on the development taking place across its academic, scientific, and physical infrastructure, as well as its programs and initiatives in the field of community service. The visit included a fruitful meeting during which the two sides agreed to open new avenues for joint cooperation between Alnoor University and the Fe'l Al-Khairat Association and to launch joint initiatives and programs that leverage the university's academic expertise and capabilities alongside the association's experience and community presence, with the aim of creating a tangible impact and reaching broader segments of society. Alnoor University affirmed that the charitable activities and initiatives undertaken by the Fe'l Al-Khairat Association have left a positive mark in Nineveh and various parts of Iraq and have earned widespread appreciation for the association's active role in philanthropy and community support. The visit reflects Alnoor University's vision that its role extends beyond education and scientific research to building meaningful partnerships with active institutions and transforming knowledge and academic capabilities into initiatives that contribute to serving people and society.

part of a cultural and youth project aimed at discovering creative talents among university students in Nineveh Governorate and supporting their endeavors across literary, artistic, and cultural fields. Organized with the support of Alnoor University, the event highlighted the university's commitment to backing youth initiatives, nurturing creative talent, and reinforcing the cultural and historical identity of Mosul and Nineveh Governorate. The ceremony featured the announcement of the award results and the honoring of the winners in recognition of their outstanding creative works, which showcased Nineveh's rich reservoir of promising young talent capable of driving innovation and making a meaningful impact. Al-Noor University's support for this initiative aligns with its vision to expand its societal and cultural role by championing projects that open new horizons for young people and provide an environment that fosters creativity and excellence, ultimately contributing to building a conscious, creative generation capable of serving society.

